Please also provide information on the number of cases of such violence that were reported and investigated and that resulted in a conviction, as well as on the sanctions imposed on the perpetrators and remedies provided to the victims. Please indicate whether measures have been taken to criminalize marital rape. Please provide information on measures taken to respond to previous concerns with regard to article 308 of the penal code, which allows for the impunity of a rapist who marries the victim. Please also provide information on initiatives to repeal or amend the provision.

6. In reference to the Committee’s previous recommendation (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 8), please provide information on measures taken to end the practice of placing women victims of violence or at risk of violence or “honour” killing in “protective custody”, which is comparable to detention, and measures taken to set up appropriate and sufficient shelters for the protection of such women. In the light of the Committee’s previous recommendation (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 9), please report on measures taken to address: (a) the allegations of widespread torture and ill-treatment of suspects by security and law enforcement officials in detention facilities, especially those run by the General Intelligence Directorate; (b) the lack of independence and impartiality on the part of the existing complaint mechanisms, including the Office for Transparency and Human Rights; (c) the limited independence of the Police Court and the Intelligence Court from the public security authorities; (d) the use of confessions extracted through torture and other ill-treatment as evidence in courts, especially in the State Security Court. Please provide updated data on the number of reported cases of torture and ill-treatment, the investigations and prosecutions initiated, the number of actual criminal convictions, the sentences imposed and the nature and amount of the reparation granted to victims.

In that regard, indicate whether shelters have been set up for non-Jordanian domestic workers who left their employment.

Treatment of aliens, including refugees and asylum seekers (arts. 2, 7, 9-10, 13 and 26)

13. In the light of the situation of the asylum seekers fleeing the conflict in the Syrian Arab Republic currently stranded at the Syrian border with the State party, in the so-called berm area, please provide detailed and updated information on: (a) whether the State party envisages reviewing its asylum policy in order to accept the asylum seekers currently stranded at the border who have been denied the right to enter the State party’s territory; (b) whether the State party is considering reopening the area to humanitarian organizations and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, given the gravity of the humanitarian situation; (c) measures taken to address the seriousness of the situation regarding the living conditions in the two informal border camps of Rukban and Hadalat, in particular concerning: (i) access to safe drinking water and sanitation; (ii) access to medical care in the light of increased reports of childbirth-related deaths and cases of hepatitis leading to child deaths in Rukban; (iii) adequate and sufficient supply of food for all asylum seekers living in those camps. Please indicate the measures taken to ensure that Palestine refugee children who have fled the conflict are registered immediately after birth and are able to access other civil documentation regardless of their status. Please also indicate whether the State party is considering reviewing its policy in order to accord all asylum seekers the right to be protected while determining their status, without discrimination. Please indicate measures taken to ensure strict compliance with the principle of non-refoulement in practice, by ensuring procedural safeguards against refoulement and effective remedies, including the review of adverse decisions by an independent judicial body.

15. Please comment on reports of arbitrary revocation of citizenship from Jordanians of Palestinian origin. Please elaborate on the procedure for such revocation and indicate how the State party ensures that the decision is taken by a competent authority and meets relevant international criteria, including the right of persons concerned to be heard and to appeal against such decisions. Indicate how the State party addresses the risk of statelessness in such cases. Please also indicate whether measures have been taken to restore nationality to persons who have been affected in cases in which international criteria were not met. 18. With regard to the Committee’s previous recommendation (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 12), please indicate measures taken to abolish the State Security Court. As the State party indicates in its report that the State Security Court still exists and restricted its jurisdiction to five types of crimes, please address concerns that: (a) the reform of the Anti-Terrorism Law that had broadened the law’s scope led to the prosecution of non-violent offences before the Court; and (b) the Court lacks functional independence and transparency.

Freedom of conscience, religion or beliefs (arts. 2, 18 and 26)

19. In the light of the recommendations made by the Committee in 1994 (see CCPR/C/79/Add.35, para. 17) and in 2010 (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 13), please provide detailed information on measures taken to guarantee freedom of religion and eliminate discrimination on religious grounds by law and in practice. In particular, please comment on the Committee’s previous concerns that apostasy from Islam will lead to discriminatory practices, such as denial of inheritance, and that the Baha’i faith is not recognized.
Freedom of opinion and expression (art. 19)

20. In connection with the Committee’s previous recommendation (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 14) and the recently amended Press and Publications Bill adopted in 2014 (see CCPR/C/JOR/5, p. 16), please provide information on: (a) measures taken to address concerns that the vague definition of acts of terrorism in the Anti-Terrorism Law (No. 55) is used to arrest journalists and webloggers and prosecute them before the State Security Court, in the absence of procedural guarantees, leading to arbitrary detention and risk of torture; (b) measures taken to ensure that, in practice, journalists, webloggers and other individuals are able to exercise their right to freedom of expression and to express critical views free from harassment, intimidation, arrest and prosecution; (c) the existing restrictions on the press and media activities and explain how those restrictions are compatible with the provisions of article 19, paragraph 3, of the Covenant; (d) the number of cases in which journalists or webloggers have been prosecuted, the reasons for such prosecution and the outcome of the cases; (e) the impact of the Jordan Media Strategy (2011-2015) on the freedom of expression for journalists and bloggers. Indicate whether, in practice, the prior approval of the governmental or administrative authorities remains necessary to hold a public meeting or event.

22. In the light of the Committee’s previous recommendation (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 16), please provide information on steps taken to amend the Societies Act with a participatory approach involving all societies and federations and indicate whether the State party envisages withdrawing the restrictions on non-governmental organizations with regard to their establishment and certain aspects of their operation, including the appointment of a State employee to serve as temporary president.

With reference to the Committee’s previous recommendation (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 17), please provide information on measures taken to address child labour by ensuring legal protection for all children, in particular for those who work in family enterprises and agriculture, and by punishing those responsible for child labour with appropriate sentences. In this regard, please indicate steps taken to implement the National Framework to Combat Child Labour.

Participation in public affairs (art. 25)

24. With regard to the Committee’s previous recommendation (see CCPR/C/JOR/CO/4, para. 19), please report on measures taken under the national coalition strategy formulated for 2012-2017 to boost women’s political participation in electoral bodies in the parliamentary, municipal, union and chamber of commerce and industry elections, and indicate in particular any measures taken to raise awareness of the role of women in decision-making processes and political and public life. In this regard, please provide updated data on the number of women currently holding positions in Parliament and the Cabinet. Indicate whether the State party envisages continuing to increase the minimum quotas for women in Parliament and in municipal councils.
