List of issues in relation to the sixth periodic report of Mongolia

Addendum

Replies of Mongolia to the list of issues*

[Date received: 27 February 2017]

* The present document is being issued without formal editing.
1. Mongolia acceded to the Second Optional Protocol of the ICCPR in 2012 and abolished death penalty in the Criminal Code which came into force on September 1st, 2016. Hence the details regarding the circumstances of the accused previously sentenced to death and actions taken to ensure their rights:

2. As of January 2017, 34 prisoners, whose death sentences have been replaced by 30-year imprisonment, serve their sentences by a solitary confinement in accordance with Article 109 of Law on Court Decisions Enforcement.

3. Rule 9 of the United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners regarding accommodation arrangement requirement approved in 1955 specifies as “Where sleeping accommodation is in individual cells or rooms, each prisoner shall occupy by night a cell or room by himself or herself. If for special reasons, such as temporary overcrowding, it becomes necessary for the central prison administration to make an exception to this rule, it is not desirable to have two prisoners in a cell or room” has been ensured by the national legislation.

4. Accommodations of these prisoners have windows and constructed in a way that they can allow the entrance of fresh air whether there is artificial ventilation or not; and artificial lights are provided sufficient for the prisoners to read or work without injury to eyesight. Every room has sanitary installations. Also every prisoner is allowed to be in the open air at least for one hour daily. Nutritional values of daily meals are assessed by professional organizations to ensure daily intake of at least 2900 k/calories.

Actions taken to improve conditions of crowded prison facilities or facilities with bad living conditions; and measures to complete construction of new prison facilities in Dornod, Uvs and Dundgovi provinces:

5. Seventeen prison facilities were renovated to comply with the “Security Standards for Prison Facilities” in order to improve efficacy of imprisonments, ensure prisoners’ natural rights, and reduce workload of prison staff; prison cells were renovated to comply with legal requirements of lighting, ventilation, humidity control, and minimum floor space, and cafeterias, educational facilities and libraries were refurbished.

6. The “Exemplary Model for Food Production and Services for Suspects, Convicts, and Prisoners” has been approved and enforced to comply with Rule 20 of the United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners by increasing variety of meal types and providing dietary and vegetarian meals to respect prisoners’ health and private needs.

7. Prison facilities have the capacity of accommodating 5838 prisoners and as of January 4, 2017, totally 4551 of inmates are serving time in them. Currently there are no prison facilities or detention centers which exceed the capacity.

8. As a result of initiatives on ensuring natural/basic human rights carried out by the General Authority of Court Decisions Enforcement, 18 of 26 prison facilities were rebuilt, and other 7 were renovated to meet the standards. Ten new prison facilities were built in last 2 years: 6 in 2015 and 4 in 2016.

9. Consequently, requirements related to prison rooms and cells specified in Rule 9 of the United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners have been fully met and the floor space per person has been increased from 2.5 square meters/person to 3-3.5 square meters/person, natural lighting and ventilation requirements were met as per specifications of the “Law on Enforcement of Decisions on Arresting or Detaining Suspects and Convicts”.

10. Constructions of the prison facilities in Dornod, Uvs, and Dundgovi provinces mentioned in the list of issues, were commenced in 2014 and completed in November 2015; each of Dornod, Uvs and Dundgovi facilities has the capacity of accommodating 100, 85, and 54 inmates respectively; 11-28 inmates are serving time in each of them respectively as of January 4, 2017.
Measures taken to fully separate young prisoners’ facilities from adults:

11. Articles regarding keeping minors separate from adults in the Law on Court Decisions Enforcement (Article 110) and the Law on Enforcement of Decisions on Arresting or Detaining Suspects and Convicts (Article 31) have been effectually observed and no cases of keeping minors with adults have been identified.

12. Every rural facility has a room for keeping minors and adults have been fully separated with no possibility of interacting with minors.

13. One aisle of every prison facility in the capital city has been arranged as the section for minors to keep them separate from adults; and as of January 4, 2017, there are 18 male and 3 female minors serving time in prison.

Legalization of the right to have conscientious objections to military service and the practice of universal military conscription:

14. As Article 17 of the Constitution of Mongolia states that “Citizens of Mongolia, while upholding justice and humanity, shall fulfill in good faith the duty to defend the motherland and serve in the army according to law”, hence military conscription is a legally obligated duty for a citizen of Mongolia.

15. However, According to the paragraph 29.2 of Article 29 of the “Law on Conscription” states that “Military conscription can be substituted by alternative services due to religious, ethical, or other reasons specified by law” ensuring the right of a citizen to substitute military conscription by alternative services. For example, Article 7 of the Procedures on Alternative Conscription, approved by Government Resolution # 49 of 2008, specifies as “A citizen shall be eligible for an alternative conscription in the following cases:

(a) If he is an official disciple of a temple or religious institution;

(b) The conscription bureau provided a description as being not eligible for genuine military conscription due to religious or ethical reasons.

Term to serve an alternative conscription must be the same as military conscription; and reasons for term discrepancy if there is any:

16. The paragraph 7.1 of Article 7 of the Law on Military Conscription legalizes as the “Term for compulsory military conscription shall be 12 months”, while paragraph 30.2, Article 30 specifies as “Term for alternative military conscription shall be 24 months”. The relations for discrepancies between the compulsory military conscription and alternative conscription have been described in the paragraph 30.4, Article 30 of the same law.

17. Information regarding corruption cases in investigation by the judicial system and regarding the investigation of cases registered as the judge or court trial have been tampered:

18. In 2016, 5 judges and 1 judicial panel reported the cases of interferences in the court proceedings by others. Two people were charged with responsibility based on the report, and 4 cases were dismissed as not being tampering efforts.

19. Provincial courts of several aimags were abolished, so citizens’ rights to access to the judicial system can be hindered due to geographical locations; limited possibilities of legal aid centers in rural areas are worrying. Response on this matter:

20. The Constitutional Court of Mongolia annulled the relevant articles of the Law on Establishing Courts on the grounds that the articles were in breach of the Constitution. Accordingly, amendments were made to the Law on Establishing Courts and appellate courts and first instance courts of the capital city and district courts were set up respectively on June 1, 2016. Hence, no breach of citizens’ rights to appeal to the court due to geographical distance.

21. As the structure and number of staff members of the Legal Aid Center have been approved by joint order of the Minister for Justice and Home Affairs and Minister for Finance, the Center has been working in line with governmental function in 8 districts, 21 provinces, and in some soums with higher population densities through its 31 branches and 72 staff members. In 2016, the Center worked to protect the legal rights and interests of citizens, who sought for legal aid: 6631 citizens were provided legal counselling, 2749 accused of 2482 cases were provided advocacy and legal representation, of which 1439 cases were brought to the court, while 264 were settled by previous stage of the court.

22. It has been required to enhance the scope and availability of the legal services provided by the Legal Aid center, and hence we are working to improve the legal environment to avail such possibilities.

Progress on providing courts with facilities equipped with necessary resources:

23. The Judicial General Council of Mongolia has been implementing step by step actions to organize investments in the judiciary in optimized and effective ways, to renovate courtrooms and to furnish with equipment, devices, and furniture necessary for effectively conducting judicial proceedings. All courts of Mongolia have been provided with necessary courtrooms, furniture and equipment. However, a dedicated courthouse issue has not been resolved so far. Currently 115 courts have been operating in 46 buildings in Mongolia; due to state budget restraints, some are coexisting in a same building or renting a space. Also there are 15 courthouses in aged buildings between 26-40 years. Facilities provision and conditions for serving citizens are still not satisfactory especially for civil trial courts in the capital city.

Actions to set up a comprehensive system for investigating and trying crimes committed by minors, especially a juvenile court:

24. Currently, there is no specialized juvenile court for administering crimes committed by juveniles in Mongolia. We assume that such courts must be set up in the future.

25. Since the dissolution of the Investigative Unit at the General Prosecutor’s Office of Mongolia, the Investigative Unit of the General Police Department and Anti-Corruption Agency have been in charge of investigating torture or inhuman treatment crimes of employees of law enforcement agencies; and offenders remain irreproachable. So please provide the number of registered torture crimes; number of investigated and prosecuted torture crimes; number of delinquents and penalties inflicted; forms and amount of compensations to victims since 2012:

26. Since the dissolution of the Investigative Unit under the General Prosecutor’s Office of Mongolia in 2014, the Investigative Unit of the General Police Department received 45 complaints related to torture or inhuman treatment during 2014-2016. Criminal proceedings were initiated for 5 complaints in accordance with Article 251 of the Criminal Code; and were transferred to the prosecutors with a suggestion to dismiss.

30. People who have been detained to custody due to administrative cases or subjugated to compulsory alcohol treatment are now detained and supervised by the Detention Center under the General Policy Agency. In 2015 and 2016, 1839 and 4513 people have been detained respectively in the detention center, which is translated into 100 person per day.

31. The condition of the detention facility does not fully meet the safety requirements as the building was erected in 1962, its structural beams have been deformed; and the Professional Inspection Agency assessed it as being unsafe and released evaluation statements several times.

32. The General Policy Agency renovated the building in 2016 with its own resources, however, a new building is required in the future and now we are working to solve issues related to the budget and financing.

For instance, during November 15-18, 2016, relevant officers of criminal and investigative agencies worked in border towns Zamiin-Uud and Erlian, PRC, studied local conditions around border ports, and exchanged opinions on the state of human trafficking, improvement of further cooperation and prevention activities.
