I. Jurisdiction and activities

A. States parties to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and to the Optional Protocols

1. At the end of the 119th session of the Human Rights Committee, there were 169 States parties to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and 116 States parties to the First Optional Protocol to the Covenant. Both instruments have been in force since 23 March 1976. The Second Optional Protocol to the Covenant, aiming at the abolition of the death penalty, entered into force on 11 July 1991. As at 30 March 2017, there were 84 States parties to the Optional Protocol.

2. Since the previous report, there has been one new accession to the Covenant, one new accession to the First Optional Protocol and three new accessions to the Second Optional Protocol.

3. As at 30 March 2017, 50 States had made the declaration provided for under article 41 (1) of the Covenant. In this connection, the Committee appeals to States parties to make the declaration under article 41 of the Covenant and to consider using this mechanism with a view to making implementation of the provisions of the Covenant more effective.

4. All information on the status of the treaties, including reservations and declarations made by States parties, can be accessed at the following link: <https://treaties.un.org/Pages/Treaties.aspx?id=4&subid=A&lang=en>.

B. Sessions of the Committee

5. The Committee has held three sessions since the adoption of its previous annual report. The 117th session was held from 20 June to 15 July 2016, the 118th session from 17 October to 4 November 2016 and the 119th session from 6 to 29 March 2017. All sessions were held at the United Nations Office at Geneva.

C. Election of officers

6. On 6 March 2017, the Committee elected the following officers for a term of two years, in accordance with article 39 (1) of the Covenant (for a list of the Committee members, see annex I):

Chair: Yuji Iwasawa

Vice-Chairs: Ahmed Amin Fathalla
Ivana Jelić
Yuval Shany

Rapporteur: Margo Waterval

7. During the 117th, 118th and 119th sessions, the Bureau of the Committee held 11 meetings. Pursuant to the decision taken at the seventy-first session, the Bureau records its decisions in formal minutes, which are kept as a record of all decisions taken.

D. Special rapporteurs

8. The Special Rapporteur on new communications and interim measures, Nigel Rodley, and the co-rapporteur, Yuval Shany, registered 166 communications during the reporting period and transmitted them to the States parties concerned, and issued 38 decisions calling for interim measures of protection pursuant to rule 92 of the Committee's rules of procedure. At the 119th session, Sarah Cleveland and Olivier de Frouville were appointed Special Rapporteurs on new communications and interim measures for a two-year term.

9. The Special Rapporteur for follow-up on Views, Víctor Manuel Rodríguez Rescia, the Special Rapporteur for follow-up on concluding observations, Sarah Cleveland and the Deputy Special Rapporteur for follow-up on concluding observations, Yadh Ben Achour, continued to carry out their functions during the reporting period. At its 119th session, Photini Pazartzis was appointed Special Rapporteur for follow-up on Views and Mauro Politi was appointed Special Rapporteur for follow-up on concluding observations.

E. Working Group on Communications and country report task forces

10. Country report task forces met during the 117th, 118th and 119th sessions to consider and adopt lists of issues on the reports of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, the Dominican Republic, Honduras, Italy, Jordan, Liechtenstein, Madagascar, Mauritius, Mongolia, Pakistan, Serbia, Thailand and Turkmenistan. Task forces also adopted lists of issues prior to reporting, under the simplified reporting procedure, on Belgium, Lithuania, the Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay and Togo. A task force adopted a list of issues in the absence of a report on Swaziland.

11. At the 117th session, the Working Group on Communications was composed of Lazhari Bouzid, Sarah Cleveland, Olivier de Frouville, Ivana Jelić, Mauro Politi, Dheerujlall Seetulsingh, Víctor Manuel Rodríguez Rescia and Margo Waterval. Ms. Cleveland was designated Chair-Rapporteur. The Working Group met from 13 to 17 June 2016.

12. At the 118th session, the Working Group on Communications was composed of Yadh Ben Achour, Lazhari Bouzid, Photini Pazartzis, Nigel Rodley, Víctor Manuel Rodríguez Rescia, Dheerujlall Seetulsingh, Yuval Shany and Konstantine Vardzelashvili. Mr. Shany was designated Chair-Rapporteur. The Working Group met from 10 to 14 October 2016.

13. At the 119th session, the Working Group on Communications was composed of Sarah Cleveland, Ahmed Amin Fathalla, Olivier de Frouville, Yuji Iwasawa, Anja Seibert-Fohr and Yuval Shany. Ms. Waterval was designated Chair-Rapporteur. The Working Group met from 27 February to 3 March 2017.

F. Derogations pursuant to article 4 of the Covenant

14. Article 4 (1) of the Covenant stipulates that, in time of public emergency which threatens the life of the nation, States parties may take measures derogating from certain of their obligations under the Covenant. Pursuant to article 4 (2), no derogation is allowed from articles 6, 7, 8 (1 and 2), 11, 15, 16 and 18. Pursuant to article 4 (3), any derogation must be immediately notified to the other States parties through the intermediary of the Secretary-General. A further notification is required upon the termination of the derogation.¹ During the period covered by the present report, the following States made derogations under the Covenant: Ecuador, Guatemala and Turkey. The following States extended the derogations they had made: France, Peru and Ukraine. All such notifications are available from the website of the Office of Legal Affairs (<http://treaties.un.org>).

G. Concluding observations and follow-up to concluding observations

15. Since its forty-fourth session, held in March 1992,² the Committee has adopted concluding observations. It takes the concluding observations as a starting point in the preparation of the list of issues for the consideration of the subsequent State party report. During the period under review, concluding observations were adopted on 20 States parties. At its 117th session, the Committee adopted concluding observations on Argentina (CCPR/C/ARG/CO/5), Burkina Faso (CCPR/C/BFA/CO/1), Denmark (CCPR/C/DNK/CO/6), Ecuador (CCPR/C/ECU/CO/6), Ghana (CCPR/C/GHA/CO/1), Kazakhstan (CCPR/C/KAZ/CO/2) and Kuwait (CCPR/C/KWT/CO/3). At its 118th session, the Committee adopted concluding observations on Azerbaijan (CCPR/C/AZE/CO/4), Colombia (CCPR/C/COL/CO/7), Jamaica (CCPR/C/JAM/CO/4), Morocco (CCPR/C/MAR/CO/6), Poland (CCPR/C/POL/CO/7), the Republic of Moldova (CCPR/C/MDA/CO/3) and Slovakia (CCPR/C/SVK/CO/4). At its 119th session, the Committee adopted concluding observations on Bangladesh (CCPR/C/BGD/CO/1), Bosnia and Herzegovina (CCPR/C/BIH/CO/3), Italy (CCPR/C/ITA/CO/6), Serbia (CCPR/C/SRB/CO/3), Thailand (CCPR/C/THA/CO/2) and Turkmenistan (CCPR/C/TKM/CO/2). Those concluding observations are available from the website of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) under “Human rights bodies/Treaty bodies/Treaty bodies database” (www.ohchr.org) and from the Official Document System of the United Nations (<http://documents.un.org>) under the symbols indicated.

16. At its seventy-fourth session, the Committee adopted decisions spelling out the modalities for following up on concluding observations.³ The Committee invites the State party to report to it within a specified period regarding follow-up on select recommendations, indicating what steps, if any, it has taken. The responses received are thereafter examined by the Committee’s Special Rapporteur for follow-up on concluding observations. Since its seventy-sixth session, the Committee has, as a rule, examined the progress reports submitted by the Special Rapporteur on a sessional basis.

17. During its 108th session, the Committee adopted a note on the procedure for follow-up to concluding observations (CCPR/C/108/2). The note defines the rules and guidelines on the development of the follow-up process and is aimed at systematizing the practice developed.

18. During the period under review, the Special Rapporteur and the Deputy Special Rapporteur for follow-up on concluding observations submitted interim reports to the Committee during the 117th, 118th and 119th sessions. During the 118th session, a new grading system for follow-up to concluding observations and Views was adopted (see para. 53 below).

19. During the 112th session, and given the difficulties caused by the imposition of the word limit for reports on follow-up to concluding observations, the Committee decided to revert to the practice of preparing and adopting a report at each session (as opposed to two reports annually). During the period under review, follow-up comments were received from States parties. Follow-up information was also received from non-governmental organizations.

20. All information on follow-up to concluding observations, including follow-up reports, can be found on the OHCHR website.

H. Communications and follow-up to Views

21. Individuals who claim that their rights under the Covenant have been violated by a State party and who have exhausted all available domestic remedies may submit written communications to the Committee for consideration under the Optional Protocol. No communication can be considered unless it concerns a State party to the Covenant that has recognized the competence of the Committee by becoming a party to the Optional Protocol.

³ Available in English only from http://tbinternet.ohchr.org/_layouts/treatybodyexternal/Download.aspx?symbolno=CCPR%2FC%2F116%2F3&Lang=en.

22. Consideration of communications under the Optional Protocol is confidential and takes place in closed meetings (art. 5 (3)). The Committee's final decisions (Views, decisions declaring a communication inadmissible, decisions to discontinue the consideration of a communication) are made public; the names of the authors are disclosed unless the Committee decides otherwise at the request of the authors.

23. An overview of States parties' obligations under the Optional Protocol is contained in the Committee's general comment No. 33 (2008) on the obligations of States parties under the Optional Protocol to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.

1. Progress of work

24. The Committee started its work under the Optional Protocol at its second session, in 1977. Since then, 2,970 communications concerning 92 States parties have been registered for consideration by the Committee, of which 210 were registered during the period covered by the present report. At present, the status of the 2,970 registered communications is as follows:

(a) Consideration concluded by the adoption of Views under article 5 (4) of the Optional Protocol: 1,200, in 994 of which violations of the Covenant were found;

(b) Declared inadmissible: 679;

(c) Discontinued or withdrawn: 395;

(d) Not yet concluded: 542.

25. At its 117th, 118th and 119th sessions, the Committee adopted Views on 60 cases and concluded the consideration of 24 cases by declaring them inadmissible. The Views and final decisions adopted by the Committee at those sessions are available through the treaty body case law database (<http://juris.ohchr.org>), as well as from the details on jurisprudence available on the OHCHR website (per session) (www.ohchr.org/EN/HRBodies/CCPR/Pages/Jurisprudence.aspx). They are also accessible through the treaty body database on the OHCHR website (www2.ohchr.org) and from the Official Document System of the United Nations (<http://documents.un.org>).

26. The Committee decided to discontinue the consideration of 25 communications for such reasons as withdrawal by the author, or because the author or counsel failed to respond to the Committee despite repeated reminders, or because the authors, who had expulsion orders pending against them, were ultimately allowed to stay in the countries concerned.

27. The table below sets out the pattern of the Committee's work on communications over the past six years (communications dealt with from 2010 to 31 December 2016).

Year	New cases registered	Cases concluded^a	Pending cases at 31 December
2016	211	113	599
2015	196	101	532
2014	191	124	456
2013	93	72	379
2012	102	99	355
2011	106	188	352
2010	96	94	434

^a Total number of cases decided (by the adoption of Views, inadmissibility decisions and decisions to discontinue consideration).

28. By the date of adoption of the present report (29 March 2017), some 220 communications were ready for the Committee to take decisions on admissibility and/or the merits. Unless there is significant increase in the capacity of the Secretariat to process communications, however, the Committee's ability to address its backlog in that regard will continue to be seriously compromised.

29. During the period under the review, the Committee, through its Special Rapporteur on new communications and interim measures and the co-rapporteur, transmitted 163 new communications to States parties under rule 97 of the Committee's rules of procedure, requesting information or observations relevant to questions of admissibility and the merits. In 33 cases, the Special Rapporteur issued requests for interim measures pursuant to rule 92 of the Committee's rules of procedure.

2. Cooperation by States parties in the examination of communications

30. In several cases decided during the period under review, the Committee noted that States parties had failed to cooperate in the procedure by not providing observations on the admissibility and/or the merits of the authors' allegations. The States parties in question are Algeria (one communication), Belarus (five communications) and Sri Lanka (one communication). The Committee deplored the situation and recalled that it was implicit in the Optional Protocol that States parties should transmit to the Committee all information at their disposal. In the absence of a reply, due weight has to be given to the author's allegations, to the extent that they have been properly substantiated.

3. Issues considered by the Committee

31. A review of the Committee's work under the Optional Protocol from its second session in 1977 to its 116th session in March 2016 can be found in the Committee's annual reports from 1984 to 2016, which contain summaries of the procedural and substantive issues considered and summaries of the decisions taken by the Committee, and in the report entitled "Consideration by the Human Rights Committee at its 114th, 115th and 116th sessions of communications received under the Optional Protocol to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights".⁴ A chapter on the jurisprudential developments of the Committee during the period under review is not contained in the present annual report but in CCPR/C/117/3 (available in English only). The full texts of the Views adopted by the Committee and of its decisions declaring communications inadmissible under the Optional Protocol are available in the treaty body database (<http://juris.ohchr.org>).

Kazakhstan*) and No. 2934/2017 (M.B. v. New Zealand).

4. Measures of reparation in Views adopted under the Optional Protocol

35. At its 118th session, the Committee adopted guidelines on measures of reparation under the Optional Protocol to the Covenant (CCPR/C/158). The guidelines provide an overview of the jurisprudence set forth in the Committee's Views and requiring States parties to make full reparation to individuals whose Covenant rights have been violated. The guidelines seek to harmonize criteria and ensure consistency in order to render the Committee's jurisprudence more effective, while allowing for flexibility regarding future developments.

5. Decisions concerning working methods for dealing with communications

36. At its 118th session, the Committee decided to develop a pilot process for inviting the parties in significant communications to offer oral comments on the other party's submissions. Such communications could include cases raising general points of interpretation of the Covenant, cases potentially revealing widespread practices that are inconsistent with the Covenant and other relevant cases raising issues of principle.

37. At the same session, the Committee decided to make public, through the Committee's webpage, the list of communications registered for and pending consideration.

6. Follow-up to Views

38. During the period under review, the Special Rapporteur for follow-up on Views submitted reports at the 118th (see CCPR/C/118/3) and 119th sessions.

39. To date, the Committee has concluded that there has been a violation of the Covenant in 1,029 of the 1,221 Views adopted since 1979. The Committee has continued the practice, initiated at its 109th session, to include in its reports on follow-up to Views an assessment of the replies received from or action taken by States parties; the assessment uses the criteria established for the follow-up procedure to the concluding observations. At its 118th session, the Committee decided to revise its assessment criteria. The Committee continues to note that many States parties have failed to implement the Views adopted under the Optional Protocol.

40. At its 118th session, the Committee decided to close the follow-up dialogue with a note of satisfactory implementation of its recommendations in communications No. 1153/2003 (Llantoy Huamán v. Peru), No. 2097/2011 (Timmer v. Netherlands), No. 2149/2010 (M.I. v. Sweden), No. 2243/2013 (Husseini v. Denmark), No. 2258/2013

(Rasappu v. Denmark), No. 2370/2014 (A.H. v. Denmark) and No. 2389/2014 (X v. Denmark).

I. General comments under article 40 (4) of the Covenant

41. At its 117th, 118th and 119th sessions, the Committee continued reviewing its draft general comment on the right to life (article 6).

J. Staff resources and translation of official documents

42. In accordance with article 36 of the Covenant, the Secretary-General is obliged to provide the Committee with the necessary staff and facilities for the effective performance of its functions. The Committee reaffirms its concern regarding the shortage of staff resources and stresses once again the importance of allocating adequate staff resources to service its sessions and to promote greater awareness, understanding and implementation of its recommendations at the national level. The Committee stresses the fact that, unless there is a significant increase in the staff capacity of the Petitions Unit to process individual communications, the Committee's ability to address its backlog in that regard will continue to be seriously compromised. Furthermore, the Committee expresses grave concern that general rules within the United Nations concerning staff mobility in the Secretariat may hamper the work of the Committee, in particular that of staff in the Petitions Unit, who need to remain in their positions long enough to acquire experience and knowledge regarding the jurisprudence of the Committee.

43. The Committee is grateful to the General Assembly for the adoption of resolution 68/268 on strengthening and enhancing the effective functioning of the human rights treaty body system, including the provision for the two and a half extra weeks of meeting time that the Committee received for the calendar years 2015 and 2016. It regrets, however, that insufficient human resources were provided to the Committee to ensure full implementation of the resolution. It also regrets the word limits imposed under the resolution and the failure of some documents to be translated, as these continue to have a negative impact on the Committee's work.

K. Outreach on the work of the Committee

44. At its ninety-fourth session, the Committee adopted a paper on a strategic approach to public relations with the media (CCPR/C/94/3).

45. During the 117th session, the Centre for Civil and Political Rights was in a position to only partially webcast the session in collaboration with OHCHR, which started to provide a full webcast of the Committee's sessions, including the examination of all States parties' reports and other public meetings, at the 118th session. The webcast may be viewed at <https://webtv.un.org>.

46. The Committee continued to develop a media strategy, which has included holding press conferences at the end of each session.

47. The Committee continued to highlight the importance of holding a periodic session in New York and, to that end, adopted the decision below, after having been provided by the Secretariat with an estimate of the budgetary implications, pursuant to rule 27 of its rules of procedure:

At its 119th session, the Human Rights Committee:

(a) Recalled the need to facilitate the engagement of States parties with the Committee, in particular those without representation in Geneva;

(b) Noted that, pursuant to article 37 (3) of the Covenant, it normally met either at Headquarters, in New York, or at the United Nations Office at Geneva;

(c) Considered that the practice of holding sessions periodically in both locations increased the visibility of the work of the Committee across different geographical regions, made the Committee more accessible to all States and United Nations bodies, as well as to a wide range of members of civil society, and strengthened the overall impact of the Committee and its work;

(d) Welcomed the planned increase in meeting time allocated for the Committee in 2018 pursuant to General Assembly resolution 68/268;

(e) Recalled that the Committee had developed in recent years new procedures that enabled it to increase its work output and to function more effectively, in accordance with the objectives set out in General Assembly resolution 68/268;

(f) Noted that, owing to a lack of synchronization between the dates of upcoming sessions and the dates foreseen for hiring and training new support staff, the Committee might not receive at its 122nd session, to be held in March 2018, the full support it needed to increase further its work output;

(g) Considered, however, that the above-mentioned situation created a unique opportunity to hold a session in New York, to be funded from the existing budget, which would enhance the accessibility and visibility aims set out in General Assembly resolution 68/268;

(h) Decided to hold its 122nd session in New York;

(i) Requested the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights to provide the support and resources needed to do so;

(j) Recommended that the Office seek the approval of the competent United Nations bodies for the necessary reattribution of budgetary items in order to facilitate the provision of the support required for the work of the Committee, including for funding the travel of staff from Geneva to New York, without increasing the planned budget for 2018, or to identify another source for funding the expenses associated with the 122nd session.

L. Submission of the Committee's annual report to the General Assembly

48. During the 118th session, the Chair attended the interactive dialogue with the General Assembly in New York on 18 October 2016, at which time he presented the Committee's annual report.

M. Adoption of the report

49. At its 3360th meeting, on 21 March 2017, the Committee considered the draft of its fiftieth annual report, covering its activities at its 117th, 118th and 119th sessions, held in 2016 and 2017. The report, as amended in the course of the discussion, was adopted unanimously. By virtue of its decision 1985/105 of 8 February 1985, the Economic and Social Council authorized the Secretary-General to transmit the Committee's annual report directly to the General Assembly.

II. Methods of work of the Committee under article 40 of the Covenant and cooperation with other United Nations bodies

50. The present section contains a summary and an explanation of the modifications introduced by the Committee to its working methods under article 40 of the Covenant during the past year, as well as recent decisions adopted by the Committee on follow-up to its concluding observations on State party reports.

A. Recent developments and decisions on procedures

51. During the 117th session, the Committee adopted the following:

(a) The Guidelines against Intimidation or Reprisals (the San José Guidelines) (HRI/MC/2015/6), without amendment, following their endorsement by the Chairs of the human rights treaty bodies (see A/70/302, para. 41);

(b) The elements for the elaboration of and consultations on general comments endorsed by the Chairs of the human rights treaty bodies (see A/70/302, para. 90 and 91), which do not constitute a departure from the Committee's practice.

52. During the 118th session, the Committee examined four State party reports in double chambers, two reports at a time (the fourth periodic report of Slovakia, the seventh periodic report of Poland, the third periodic report of the Republic of Moldova and the fourth periodic report of Jamaica). The Committee discussed the chambers experience following the review of those reports. It decided to suspend the use of double chambers until it had a backlog of reports or until such time as it would need to work for more than 12 weeks in plenary during a single year.

53. During the 118th session, the Committee adopted the following:

(a) Guidelines on measures of reparation under the Optional Protocol to the Covenant (CCPR/C/158);

(b) A new grading system for follow-up to concluding observations and Views;

(c) A paper on the possibility, in exceptional cases, of resorting to oral hearings when examining communications of a particularly complex nature;

(d) A paper on the publication of information on pending cases.

1. Focused reports based on lists of issues prior to reporting

54. In October 2009, the Committee decided to make a new reporting procedure available to a limited number of States parties. At its 111th session (July 2014), the Committee decided that the procedure involving a list of issues prior to reporting should be in principle offered to all States parties and should be applicable to periodic reports only (see A/70/40, para. 56 (a)). Information on the procedure can be found at www.ohchr.org/EN/HRBodies/CCPR/Pages/SimplifiedReportingProcedure.aspx.

55. At its 117th, 118th and 119th sessions, the Committee examined the fifth periodic report of Argentina, the third periodic report of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the sixth periodic reports of Denmark and Ecuador, the seventh periodic report of Poland and the third periodic report of the Republic of Moldova, all of which were submitted pursuant to the simplified reporting procedure. During those three sessions, the Committee also adopted lists of issues prior to reporting with respect to the sixth periodic report of Belgium, the fourth periodic report of Lithuania, the fifth periodic report of the Netherlands, the seventh periodic report of Norway, the fourth periodic report of Paraguay and the fifth periodic report of Togo.

2. Fiftieth anniversary of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights

56. On 16 December 2015, OHCHR launched its public awareness campaign on the fiftieth anniversary of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights with a photography exhibition at Palais de Nations, Geneva. On that occasion, the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, the Chair of the Human Rights Committee and the Chair of the Committee on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights made remarks. On 1 March 2016, the Human Rights Council commemorated the anniversary with a high-level panel sponsored by the Government of the Russian Federation on the theme “Universality, indivisibility, interdependence and inter-relatedness of human rights”. The Chairs of the two Committees participated in the panel, which was followed by a side event organized by the Global Initiative for Economic, Social and Cultural Rights, the Centre for Civil and Political Rights and OHCHR. Víctor Manuel Rodríguez Rescia represented the Committee at the side event. During its 117th session, the Committee held its first joint meeting with the Committee on Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the two Covenants. At its seventy-first session, the General Assembly devoted one plenary session to the commemoration of the anniversary. The human rights focus of the annual treaty event that took place in September 2016 during the high-level segment of the Assembly was devoted to promoting the ratification of the two Covenants and their Optional Protocols. On 16 December 2016, the two Committees launched a joint statement on the anniversary of the Covenants (CCPR/C/2016/1-E/C.12/2016/3).

B. Links to other bodies

57. At the 118th session, some members of the pre-sessional working group met with the members of the Committee on Enforced Disappearances to consider the issue of the right to life, as it relates to enforced disappearances, in the context of the draft general comment on that topic. During its 117th session, the Committee met with judges from the European Court of Human Rights. In November 2016, some members of the Committee met informally in Costa Rica with judges from the Inter-American Court of Human Rights. During the 119th session, Yuji Iwasawa and Yuval Shany took part in a workshop organized by OHCHR on treaty bodies and national human rights institutions.

III. Submission of reports by States parties under article 40 of the Covenant

58. In line with the guidelines adopted by the Committee at its sixty-sixth session and amended at its seventieth session (CCPR/C/66/GUI/Rev.2), the five-year periodicity in reporting, which the Committee had established at its thirteenth session, in July 1981 (CCPR/C/19/Rev.1), was replaced by a flexible system whereby the date for the subsequent periodic report by a State party is set on a case-by-case basis at the end of the Committee's concluding observations on any report, in accordance with article 40 of the Covenant and in the light of the guidelines for reporting and the working methods of the Committee. The Committee confirmed this approach in its current guidelines, adopted at the ninety-ninth session (CCPR/C/2009/1).

A. Reports submitted to the Secretary-General from April 2015 to 31 March 2016

59. During the period covered by the present report, 14 reports were submitted to the Secretary-General by the following States parties: Australia (sixth periodic report), Bulgaria (fourth periodic report), Cameroon (fifth periodic report), Democratic Republic of the Congo (fourth periodic report), Dominican Republic (sixth periodic report), El Salvador (seventh periodic report), Guatemala (fourth periodic report), Hungary (sixth periodic report), Jordan (fifth periodic report), Lebanon (third periodic report), Liberia (initial report), Mauritius (fifth periodic report), Romania (fifth periodic report) and Switzerland (fourth periodic report).

B. Overdue reports and non-compliance by States parties with their obligations under article 40

60. The Committee wishes to reiterate that States parties to the Covenant must submit the reports referred to in article 40 of the Covenant on time so that the Committee can duly perform its functions under that article. Regrettably, serious delays have been noted since the establishment of the Committee.

61. The Committee notes with concern that the failure of States parties to submit reports hinders the performance of its monitoring functions under article 40 of the Covenant. The Committee reiterates that States with overdue reports are in default of their obligations under article 40 of the Covenant (see annex II for the list of States parties with overdue reports).

62. The Committee draws particular attention to the fact that 21 initial reports are overdue, of which 7 are overdue by between 5 and 10 years and 11 are overdue by 10 years or more. The result is frustration of a crucial objective of the Covenant, namely, to enable the Committee to monitor compliance by States parties with their obligations under the Covenant on the basis of periodic reports. The Committee addresses reminders at regular intervals to all those States parties whose reports are significantly overdue.

63. Owing to the concern of the Committee about the number of overdue reports and non-compliance by States parties with their obligations under article 40 of the Covenant,⁵ amendments to the rules of procedure were formally adopted during the seventy-first session, in March 2001.⁶ The Committee has applied the revised rules since the end of the seventy-first session (April 2001).

64. The amendments introduced a procedure to be followed when a State party has failed to honour its reporting obligations for a long time, or requests a postponement of its scheduled appearance before the Committee at short notice. In both situations, the Committee may henceforth notify the State concerned that it intends to consider, from material available to it, the measures adopted by that State party to give effect to the provisions of the Covenant, even in the absence of a report.

65. At its 103rd session, the Committee amended its rules of procedure (rules 68 and 70) relating to the examination of country situations in the absence of a report (review procedure).⁷ Since 2012, the examination of such country situations takes place in public rather than closed sessions and the resulting concluding observations are also issued as public documents.

66. The Committee first applied the procedure under rule 70 of its rules of procedure to a non-reporting State at its seventy-fifth session. To date, the procedure to examine States parties in the absence of a report has been initiated with regard to the following 21 States parties: Bangladesh, Barbados, Belize, Cabo Verde, Central African Republic, Côte d'Ivoire, Dominica, Equatorial Guinea, Gambia, Grenada, Haiti, Kenya, Malawi, Mozambique, Nicaragua, Rwanda, Saint Vincent and the Grenadines, San Marino, Seychelles, South Africa and Suriname. Information on all States parties examined under this procedure up until the 110th session is contained in the annual report to the sixty-ninth session.⁸

67. Prior to its 112th session, the Committee indicated to South Africa that it would adopt a list of issues in the absence of a report from that State party during the 112th session. On 26 November 2014, South Africa submitted its report and the adoption of a list of issues was rescheduled. A note verbale was also sent to Bangladesh indicating that the Committee would adopt a list of issues in the absence of a report at the 112th session. Following a commitment by Bangladesh to provide the Committee with a report by March 2015, the Committee deferred consideration of the situation of civil and political rights in Bangladesh until receipt of the report. On 19 June 2015, Bangladesh submitted its report, which was examined by the Committee during its 119th session.

68. During its 119th session, the Committee adopted a list of issues on Swaziland in the absence of a report.

C. Periodicity with respect to States parties' reports examined during the period under review

69. At its 104th session, the Committee decided to allow States parties to submit reports at intervals of no more than six years. Thus, the Committee may now ask States parties to submit their subsequent periodic reports within three, four, five or six years. At its 114th session, the Committee decided that, when determining the periodicity for future reports, States submitting reports under the simplified reporting procedure should be given an extra year to provide their reports compared with those submitting under the standard reporting procedure, with a view to ensuring fairness between States parties making use of the different procedures. Accordingly, the Committee may now ask States parties submitting reports under the simplified reporting procedure to provide their periodic reports at intervals of no more than seven years (i.e., the maximum six years allowed under the standard reporting procedure plus an extra year).

13. Somalia	23 April 1991	25
14. South Sudan	9 July 2012	4		Bearing in mind that Sudan has been a party to the Covenant since 1986, and that South Sudan became independent from it in July 2011, the Committee, in light of its general comment No. 26 (1997) on issues relating to the continuity of obligations to the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (see Official Records of the General Assembly, Fifty-third Session, Supplement No. 40 , vol. I (A/53/40 (Vol. I)), annex VII), is of the view that the people of South Sudan remain under the protection of the Covenant, and thus South Sudan should submit an initial report under article 40 (1) (a) of the Covenant. The Committee decided, on two occasions, to invite South Sudan to submit an initial report (see para. 61 above and A/69/70, Vol. I, para. 75).
15. State of Palestine	3 July 2015	1		Accession on 2 April 2014
